

"PREPAREDNESS" IS KEYNOTE OF D. A. R. AT SILVER JUBILEE

Emphasized By All Prominent Speakers Except President Wilson at Celebration.

"Preparedness" was the keynote struck by all the prominent speakers except President Wilson, at the celebration of the Silver Jubilee of the Daughters of the American Revolution, at Memorial Continental Hall yesterday afternoon.

A national unity created by a public sentiment so strong that those who were not for America first, last and all the time would be ostracized, was urged by President Wilson.

Women were counseled to take a part in the woman's movement for national defense by the president general, Mrs. William Cunningham Story.

A union of purpose among the various patriotic organizations, that purpose to be a patriotism that would be prepared to assert itself in a crisis, was the plea of Miss Mabel Boardman.

Mrs. Galt Centers Attention.

President Wilson's entrance into the hall, just after the opening prayer by Bishop Harding, was marked by applause and the rising of the audience as the band played "The Star-Spangled Banner." The President, however, was not long the center of attention, for the eyes of all the women shifted to Mrs. Norman Galt, his fiancée, who was in a box over the stage. From time to time, as the President made a point, eyes were turned to Mrs. Galt to see the effect of his remarks upon her.

This interest was especially marked when the President made a point of no body of persons comparable to a body of ladies for creating an atmosphere of opinion, and here Mrs. Galt was interrupted by applause, she flushed and continued: "I have myself in part yielded to the influence of that atmosphere." The President then was deafening. All eyes were turned to Mrs. Galt, but the President raised his hand, and hastened to conclude, "For I took me a long time to observe how I was going to vote in New Jersey."

Mrs. Lockwood's Speech a Feature.

In the box with Mrs. Galt were Miss Helen Woodrow Bones and the Misses Smith, of New Orleans. White House guests; in another box were the Secretary of State and Mrs. Lansing, who came with Mrs. Lansing's mother, Mrs. John W. Foster, a former president general of the society, and also the boxes were Bishop Alfred Harding, Mrs. William Cunningham Story, and Miss Mabel Boardman.

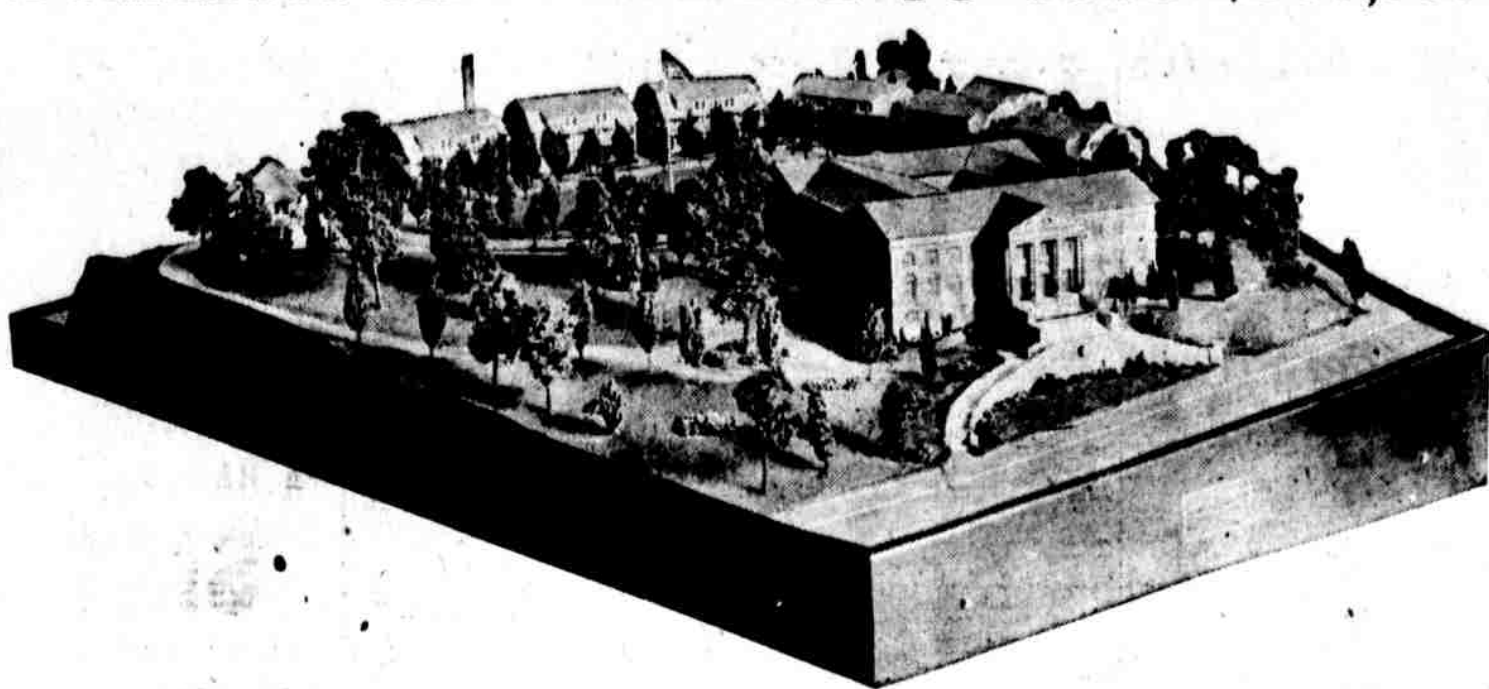

An impressive part of the ceremony was the presentation of greetings to the Daughters from more than a dozen patriotic societies. A feature of the afternoon was the talk of Mrs. Mary S. Lockwood, a founder of the D. A. R., and now chaplain-general of the body, who told of the early struggles of the society.

Officers Hold Reception.

Last evening Memorial Hall was especially lighted and decorated for the reception by Mrs. Story and other national officers to State delegations. All the women present wore decorations of the G. A. R. and those of other patriotic bodies to which they belonged. In the receiving line with Mrs. Story were Mrs. George M. Sternberg, Mrs. Willard Augsbury, Mrs. Edward F. Orton, Mrs. W. E. Jamison, Mrs. J. P. Boyle, Mrs. William Guernsey, and Mrs. Mary S. Lockwood.

Those on the platform for the afternoon exercises included Mrs. Frank Foster Greenawald, Mrs. Aida K. Clementson, Mrs. Ernest A. Allen, Mrs. Lila Seaton Lipscomb, Mrs. Bertha Lincoln Heustis, Mrs. James R. Speight, Mrs. Ella Logan, Mrs. William Wallace, Mrs. Eliza Perry Leary, Mrs. C. R. Davis, vice president general; Mrs. Mary S. Lockwood, chaplain general; Mrs. William C. Boyle, recording secretary general; Mrs. George M. Sternberg, librarian general; Mrs. Joseph E. Randall, treasurer general; Mrs. Willard S. Augsbury, historian general; Mrs. John L. Buel, State regent, Connecticut; Miss Natalie Sumner Lincoln, Miss Eugenia Washington Brown, Mrs. Harry T. Guss, Miss Mary Lee Goddard, Mrs. Erury C. Sadow, Mrs. Douglas Thompson, Miss Dorinda Rogers.

DOMESTIC ARTS SCHOOL TO COST $500,000

Potomac stone and colonial style of architecture specified in plans for new buildings of National School of Domestic Arts and Sciences to be erected on Barber estate at Wisconsin and Massachusetts avenues.

FIRST WORK DONE ON NATIONAL SCHOOL

Colonial Style of Architecture To Be Followed in Massive New Buildings.

On the site of the Barber estate, at Wisconsin and Massachusetts avenues, ground has been broken for the series of buildings of the National School of Domestic Arts and Sciences.

Charles Francis Wood, a consulting engineer of Washington, designed the buildings, which are to cost about $500,000. Between $250,000 and $500,000 is to be paid for the land. Mr. Wood is to be a joint owner of the school, with Miss Mary Arline Zurborst, its founder. The buildings will be of the colonial or "semi-classical" style of architecture, as followed by the Government in its new buildings. The main science hall and administration building, to be one of the most elaborate, will resemble Memorial Continental Hall. This building will be 120 by 140 feet, fronting on Wisconsin avenue and it will enclose a large open court. This court is to be roofed over with glass on its floor level and beneath this will be an indoor swimming pool.

There will be six dormitories, an infirmary, a principal's residence, a power-house, a tea-house with a stage in front of it, and an amphitheater, where there will be plays and school exercises.

Potomac stone will be employed. The dormitories will resemble the Washington home at Mt. Vernon. Bowling alleys and a gymnasium are to be provided. An auditorium will seat 600 persons. There will be accommodated 600 pupils.

Electrocution Prevented By Appeal to U. S. Court

Attorneys for H. E. Filler, convicted of first degree murder at Greensburg, Pa., petitioned the United States Supreme Court today to order a new trial.

The school, founded twelve years ago, now occupies seven remodeled houses in the vicinity of Rhode Island and Connecticut avenues. Its membership has increased to 250 pupils, for whom there are sixteen instructors.

Mr. Wood designer of the new structures, built the West Point cadet barracks and the officers' quarters at the Naval Academy.

The site is one of the most beautiful that could be found. It overlooks the city from a point near the site of the proposed Episcopal Cathedral.

Young People's Session Opened At Baltimore

A three days' session of the Union of Young People's Work of the Maryland Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church opened today in Baltimore. The afternoon session being held in Abbot Memorial Church and the evening meetings in Albaugh's Theatre. This evening in a festival of song, the convention chorus, led by the Rev. E. B. Stone, will be assisted by soloists of this city and Baltimore.

The day sessions were taken up with the reading of reports and addresses. Tomorrow night the general theme of the meeting will be "My Country," the feature being an address on "Uncle Sam, His Young People and Their Church," by Dr. W. E. Chalmers, of Philadelphia. Thursday night will be adult Bible class night, and the classes will march to the theater in a body.

There will be six dormitories, an infirmary, a principal's residence, a power-house, a tea-house with a stage in front of it, and an amphitheater, where there will be plays and school exercises.

Potomac stone will be employed. The dormitories will resemble the Washington home at Mt. Vernon. Bowling alleys and a gymnasium are to be provided. An auditorium will seat 600 persons. There will be accommodated 600 pupils.

A Contented Mother

A quiet, tranquil mother will transmit a more healthful influence than if she is extremely nervous from undue pain. That is why experienced mothers are constantly urging expectant mothers to use the old-time remedy, Mother's Friend, a dependable external treatment obtained at any drug store. It relieves undue tension on the cords and ligaments resulting from muscular expansion and gently soothes the network of fine nerve threads. It is the one splendid assistant to ease, comfort, and safety.—Advt.

Fine Healthy Child Convincing Evidence

Simple, Inexpensive Remedy Checks Early Tendency to Constipation.

About the first thing impressed on the young Mother is the necessity for regularity in her baby, which brings up the question of the most desirable laxative for children's use. Mrs. Jesse Richardson, Philmont, Ky., says she has used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for the past year, and that there is no medicine in the world like it. She writes, "My little son, William, Jr., just loved it because it is so pleasant to take, and everybody talks about his being such a fine, healthy boy."

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a compound of simple laxative herbs, free from any opiate or narcotic drug, and is the standard remedy for constipation in thousands of homes throughout the land. Drug Stores everywhere sell it for fifty cents a bottle. Get a bottle of this excellent remedy, and have it in the house. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. ## "GOTTSTRAFE" CARDS BARRED FROM MAILS

Postmaster General Burleson has issued an order closing the mails to post cards and letters on the envelopes of which are inscribed insulting words or pictures inspired by the war. The order reads:

"Postmasters are directed to treat as non-mailable envelopes and post cards bearing attacks containing the words, or having printed thereon the words 'Gott strafe England,' or a picture of the German eagle with a red blot labeled 'Lusitania,' inscribed. The blot that won't come off, as being not only unneutral, but calculated to reflect upon certain classes of persons."

The Lusitania inscription was on documents sent to the Department of Justice, and referred by that department to the Postmaster General. The Postmaster General's order does not affect the circulation of sealed mail matter.

"Daughter of Lakes" Brand

Sweet June Peas—per can 51 2c

Wisconsin Pack Sweet June Peas. This year there was an enormous pack of canned peas in this country. As might be expected, prices went way down; in fact, many packers feared a heavy loss. The packers of the brand mentioned above, rather than see vast quantities of perfectly good peas go to waste, conceived the idea of canning them just as they come from the pod; no sorting, no grading; just put them in the cans as they come. THESE GOODS are not trash; they are good enough for any table, but for the reason that many people cannot understand how perfectly good Sweet June Wisconsin Peas can be sold at such a ridiculously low price, we urge every one who is the least bit skeptical to try one can first. They will be on sale all this week, and you can get as many as you want.
